of the 1948 Academy Award-winning film biography, Monsieur Vincent

Before I watched this film, I knew almost nothing about the life of Vincent de Paul. I've watched several films of the lives of saints. Most are highly sentimentalized and romanticized. This film is completely different and refreshingly so. Monsieur Vincent won 1948 Best Film awards in France, Belgium and Italy as well as an Academy Award for Best Foreign Film in Hollywood that year. Filmed in black and white (with English subtitles), this hour-and-a-half film is visually simple and stunning. We can all benefit from knowing more about the life and work of the humble Monsieur Vincent, who helped transform France and the whole world."

It is, however, important to know the number of lunches needed for our guests.
